Learners can work in pairs or individually to choose the right answer to each set of clues

Laminate and cut up the words on the next sheet and hand a set to each group of learners.

As you read out the clues, the learner teams guess the word. The more clues they need, the less marks they get: 3 points for just one clue; then 2 then 1 point if they need all three clues

Differentiation: More able learners could write the answers rather than read the cards

This could also be put together as an online multiple choice quiz, or used on an interactive whiteboard.
