To come from

There are different meanings for 'to come from', for example:

1. To come from - to originate from (to be born somewhere)

2. To come from - to travel from a place

It works like this:

1. I come from Pakistan. (I am Pakistani.)

Here we use the present simple as you will always come from Pakistan, it is a fact.

2. I came from Pakistan in 1997. (I travelled from Pakistan.)

Here we use the past simple as we are talking about something that happened in the past.
