Last year I went on holiday to Barcelona, in Spain, with my lovely boyfriend, Michael. We went in January and stayed in a beautiful hotel with fantastic views of the busy city.

Luckily, the weather was warm. We visited many sights while we were there, including a huge, tall cathedral and an old, ruined castle on a hill. The food was delicious. My favourite meal was the yummy paella we ate on the last night. The only downside was that there were crowds of tourists everywhere. I hope to go back to Barcelona soon because it was one of the best holidays I have ever had!
