Directions

from _____ to _____ (via _____)

For example, your house (perhaps you're giving a party!), your college, a famous landmark or tourist attraction.

- or it might be helpful to draw a map
- or paste in a map from a web site such as www.multimap.com

Language and layout

- Use short clear sentences. These will often start with a verb.
- Choose your verbs carefully. E.g. turn left, go straight on, continue, drive, walk, cross.
- Put your directions in a logical order. You may want to use connectives such as first, then, next, if, when and finally.
- Bullet points or numbers will help the reader follow your directions.
- Include an appropriate amount of detail. Names of roads, pubs and other landmarks can be useful but too much information is confusing.

Things to do before setting out

E.g. bring a bottle (party), pen and paper (college), linen (holiday cottage).

Step by step directions (include approximate travel times, road names, etc.)
