

Complex Sentences

because where when although

until

if

- Use the conjunctions (joining words) to extend the simple sentences.

Jack enjoys watching football when the weather is fine.

It was raining in Abingdon although the sun was out in Oxford.

I woke up early this morning.

Jack enjoys watching football.

Sue sat down.

It was raining in Abingdon.

I come to Abingdon and Witney College.

The passengers on the bus smiled.

Extra

- Try turning each sentence round. Write the subordinate clause first.

You may need to add a comma or change some of the words.

When the toddler started singing, the passengers on the bus smiled.

Although the sun was out in Oxford, it was raining in Abingdon.