

Is it their, there or they're?

The words their, there or they're can be confusing. Which one do you use?

The word 'their' is used when showing something belongs to somebody.

It is their car.

Their son goes to my school.

We went to their house for dinner.

The word 'there' is used to show the location of something or someone or that something or someone is present. i.e.

The house is over there.

There you are.

They're is used as a shortened form of they are.

They're coming to the football match.

Sam said they're going to be late.

I don't think they're very nice.

Put the correct word in the spaces.

1. _____ brother plays rugby league.
2. It's _____ turn.
3. _____ clothes were wet from the rain.
4. _____ going to be late for their tea.
5. The remote control is over _____.
6. I think that it's _____ dog.
7. _____ car has broken down.
8. _____ are lots of parking spaces in the village.
9. I'll meet you _____ at ten thirty.
10. _____ coming over for dinner on Monday.

Now check your work.

HOMOPHONES

For example:

are words that sound the same but have a different spelling and meaning

ROWED

HE ROWED A BOAT

RODE

HE RODE A BIKE

ROAD

HE CROSSED THE ROAD

TO, TOO AND TWO

WALKING TO THE SHOPS

TOO MANY SWEETS

TWO FOOTBALLERS